HRT Snow Routes

Hampton Roads Transit developed a series of snow routes to be used in the event of regional snowfall. If the forecast calls for snow up to six inches or more, HRT, will announce its decision to either cancel all transit service or operate snow routes by 2:00 p.m. as it relates to HRT’s next service day.

When the snow routes are activated, HRT will severely reduce service to include only core bus routes primarily serving major roads and some transit centers. Passengers may experience service delays and increased wait times due to road conditions.

There are 19 routes scheduled to operate on the Southside between Chesapeake, Norfolk, Portsmouth and Virginia Beach, and 6 routes scheduled to operate on the Northside between Hampton and Newport News.

Passengers will be able to board and exit the bus at all regular and temporary bus stops along each snow route.

Buses will not service EMVC, MacArthur Square, Ballentine/Broad Creek and Military Hwy Light Rail Stations during a severe snowfall.
